

Turkiye-Georgia business forum called Chveneburebi opened for the first time in Georgia with the support of the Georgian Foreign Ministry and on the initiative of the Georgian Diaspora in Turkey. "It is very gratifying for me, as a native of Georgia, to attend the forum. For every ordinary Georgian, a close connection with the homeland is important. Similar events will help deepen relations between the two friendly countries and jointly plan various projects in the future "- Osman Chalishkan Mzhavanadze. Over 100 Turkish businesspersons, potential investors, members of the trade-industrial chamber and representatives from the agriculture, food and tourism sectors arrived in Georgia. Participants will learn about the Georgian investment climate and economic opportunities with the aim of contributing to the attraction of investments and expansion of trade-economic cooperation between Georgians and Turks.
